What's New In GetRightToGo?

GetRightToGo is the simplest version of an application that will allow you to customize a built application using a web page. GetRightToGo allows you to make changes to the application after you build the application. This makes it possible to make changes and then simply build it. No log files, no code, no changes needed. ToGoApp is an application that gets built using the GetRightToGoBuilder. After building the ToGoApp you then click the ToGoApp URL on a web browser and the application starts downloading and then runs itself. The reason I was giving you the names and numbers is that each beta will have a new version number and with each version you will be able to do more. For example version 2.0 could allow users to add one more button and so on. Version 2.2 would allow you to add an icon, version 2.5 would allow you to customize the page that gets built and so on. A: Here's an example of what you'd have to do, using C# code.

You can see the GetRightToGo Builder in action in this video. This is only a short example, and should be taken in context of a more complete solution that may use C# or another language: Add the following import statements to the code file: using System; using System.IO; using System.Net; using System.Runtime.Remoting; using System.Threading; using System.Web; using System.Web.Caching; using System.Web.UI; using System.Web.UI.WebControls; using System.Web.UI.WebControls.WebParts; using System.Web.UI.HtmlControls; using System.Data.SqlClient; using System.Data.SqlTypes; As well as the following references (as suggested by other answers): using System.Web; using System.Web.Caching; Then add a new method to your custom project: public static string GetToGoURL(string path) { string url = ""; string finalurl = url + path; if (path.Contains("ftp://")) { url = "ftp://" + path; } return finalurl; } And then update your ToGoApp method to call this new method. public void ToGoApp(ToGoOptions opts) { string ftpurl = GetToGoURL(opts.ftppath); bool ischecked = false;
